TRADE MARK—PHOSPHODYNE. SANCTIONED BY HER MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT.

Protected under the "Trade Marks Act" (3 and 30 Vict., ch. 91). Enacted by the "Queen's Most Excellent Majesty," 20th August, 1875.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, AND ENERGY.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE.

Discovered and so named, A.D. 1862, by R. D. LALOR, M. D.

To residents in India, China, and the Colonies it will prove invaluable as a Reliable Liver Tonic and a Vitalising Restorative.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Is a pure solution of PHOSPHORUS, not at all unpleasant in Flavour or Appearance, being a Perfectly Bright Liquor combined with Quinia Cypripideen and Xanthoxylin, the Wonder of Modern Chemistry, free from Strychnia, and all dangerously Active Drugs Pronounced by the Highest Medical Authority, the only Safe, Prompt, and Reliable PHOSPHORIC REMEDY for over-worked Brain, Worry, Anxiety, Excitement, Late Hours, Business Pressure, Nervous Prostration, Nerve Pain, Wasting Diseases, Asthmatic, Consumptive, Stomach and Liver Complaints, Impaired Nutrition, Impoverished Impure Blood, Premature Decline, and all morbid conditions of the system, dependent upon the deficiency of the Vital Forces.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Purifies and Enriches the Blood, Clears the Skin, thoroughly Invigorates the Brain, Nerves, and Muscles, Re-energises the Failing Functions of Life by supplying the PHOSPHORIC element which has been wasted, and thus imparts Energy, and Fresh Vitality to the exhausted Nervo-Electric Force, and Rapidly Cures every form of Nervous Debility, Failing Powers, Paralysis, Nervous Mind and Heart Diseases, from whatever cause.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Being a natural Restorative, its Energising Effects are not followed by corresponding re-action, but are Permanent ; and are frequently shown from the first day of its administration by a remarkable increase of Nervous Power, with a feeling of Vigour, Strength, and Comfort, to which the patient has long been unaccustomed. DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE gives back to the Human structure, in a suitable form, the Phosphoric or Lively Animating element of life which has been wasted, and exerts an important influence directly on the Brain, Sexual Marrow, and Nervous System, of a Nutritive, Tonic, and Invigorating character ; thereby checking all wasting of the Vital Fluid, and the more exhausting Processes of Life, maintaining that Buoyant Energy on the Brain and Mucular System which renders the Mind Cheerful, Happy, Brilliant, and Energetic ; entirely overcoming that Dull, Inactive, and Sluggish disposition which many persons experience in all their actions.

TRUTH and RIGHT versus FALSEHOOD, PIRACY, and FRAUD.

A BASE FRAUD is being perpetrated by the advertisement of a Worthless Imitation of Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE in the Newspaper Press of India and the Colonies, by some Ignorant, Unscrupulous Pretenders, who do not Publish their Address ; the nature of which may be guessed from the fact that the originators of these

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 7.

BUSINESS re-opened on Tuesday after the New Year holidays, and although there has been nothing of a specially active character apparent, trade has been quite on an average scale for this period of the year. Transactions to a fair extent have taken place in Cotton, both ready and for future delivery, and the same may be said of Seeds and Wheat, which promise very full crops all round. Imports, however, are still very slack, owing to excessive supplies, and some time must elapse before any real improvement can be expected. Money continues abundant, making stocks and shares firm, while Sterling Exchange, partly from the same cause, and partly owing to the increase announced in the Council drawings, is weaker again.

MONEY.—Notwithstanding a decided increase in the extent of current business, the supply of funds is considerably in excess of requirements as yet, and on first class securities Money at call can still be had at 1½ per cent. per annum. The last return of the Bank of Bombay showed a further increase in the Cash Balance of 14 lacs, and the Bank of Bengal in Calcutta is still in an extremely strong position, so that we cannot look for rates of discount moving upwards yet a while. In fact, so far as can at present be seen, Money promises to continue unusually cheap throughout the entire season, although very frequently times of unusual cheapness are followed by extremely high rates of discount.

EXCHANGE.—The transactions in Sterling this week have again been comparatively moderate, and a decline of 3-32d. to 5-32d. has been established. Business opened for the mail on Tuesday, when, owing to a fall of ¼d. per oz. in Bar Silver in London, the banks reduced their selling rates 1-32d., and their buying prices 1-16d., from our previous quotations. On Wednesday the tone was still weak, but no change was made in rates. On Thursday, however, the fact of council drafts having gone at 1s. 7 11-16d. and the information that next week's drawings will be increased from 35 to 40 lacs, induced a decided downward tendency, and a fall of 1-16d. took place. To-day we have again ruled very quiet, and although there are still drawers of Bank Bills at yesterday's figures, private paper is negotiable at a partial decline of 1-32d., closing rates being :—Bank Bills on demand, 1s. 7 19-32d. ; Telegraphic, 1s. 7 9-16d. ; 3 months' sight, 1s. 7 23-32d. ; Credits, 3 months' sight 1s. 7 27-32d. ; Documents, 3 months' 1s. 7¾d. ; Francs, 3 months' 2'09½ per rupee. For future delivery a difference of 1-16d. per rupee per month forward is made on current rates for ready bills up to April, but there are more buyers than sellers at this equivalent.

Future prospects have unquestionably had a weaker feeling imparted to them by the further increase in the Council drawings. An idea undoubtedly prevailed —how engendered it is difficult to say—that Government would so regulate their drawings as to give some degree of support to the market. This received a shock, but was not entirely dissipated by the increase from 30 to 35 lacs, but the last announcement leaves no ground for belief that Government will do otherwise than draw up to the full of their requirements. If we take this into account and the exceptional strength of the Banks, as shown by the last returns of the Bank of Bengal and Bank of Bombay, there can be little doubt that, failing some unlooked for turn in the position of Silver at home, however active our export season may be, it will be insufficient to raise the value of the Rupee much above its present level for more than a short time, if at all. Silver in London is still quoted at 51¼d. per oz., but as this is equivalent to about 1s. 7¾d. per Rupee, and shipments for this side have again been resumed, we are inclined to regard the quotation as more or less nominal.

On Calcutta the quotation for demand drafts is 1/32 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight in the absence of sellers quite nominal. On China the rate for 60 days' sight Mercantile Bills is Rs. 218 per 100 dollars.

From Hong Kong the latest quotation for 4 months' sight Bank Bills on London is 3s. 8¾d. per dollar, and from Shanghi 5s. 1¼d. per tael.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—The extraordinary abundance of Money continues to foster speculation in Government Paper, and a very large business has been done during the week at steadily hardening rates. One transaction alone yesterday was reported for 35 lacs, and unless stopped by an upward turn in the value of Money, rates seem likely to rise still futher as there is now no great amount of paper available on the market. We quote to-day at the close :—Fours, Rs. 101¼ ; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 110. Port Trust Bonds have advanced to par, at which 20 lacs changed hands two days ago in a line.

SHARES.—A very firm feeling prevails, and, as a general rule, our list of quotations shows a decided turn in favor of holders. In Bank shares Nationals are Rs. 2 higher at Rs. 108, Agras unchanged at Rs. 134. Bank of Bombays advanced at one time to Rs. 740, but close again at Rs. 738½. In Land Companies the only movement has been in Colabas which have advanced to Rs. 860. Press companies in most cases have not moved much, but our quotations show a decline of Rs. 20 in Dhollera and Sind Press, and an advance of Rs. 45 in Colaba and Rs. 35 in Mofussil. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares continue to advance daily. Albert have risen Rs. 175, Dhurrumsey Rs. 115, Jewraz Balloo Rs. 60, Bhownagger Mills and Coorla Rs. 50, Soonderdass Rs. 35, Khutao Mucconjee, Manockjee Petit, and National Rs. 30, Great Eastern and Oriental Rs. 25, and other concerns Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 per share. The present fall in Cotton is altogether in favour of the Mills, and although Yarns and Goods are not active the well managed Companies are, without doubt, working to a good profit.

In Miscellaneous Companies, Bombay Land Mills are Rs. 10 lower, but Treacher and Company, Limited, show a rise of Rs. 35, and Bombay Ice Company of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per share.

PIECE-GOODS.—Owing to a dispute betwixt the local dealers and the Marwaree buyers for the up-country markets, the extent of business doing from the bazaar up till yesterday was limited in the extreme, the offtake being only some 150 packages a day. For the entire week the clearances cannot be put at more than about 1,200 packages, as although the dispute is now settled, the overpowering stocks prevent buyers from operating beyond their most pressing wants. While therefore Manchester quotations have been advanced of late 1¼d. to 3d. per piece, prices here have in some instances given way a half to one anna per piece. When in addition to this the decline in exchange is taken into account, it will be seen that the possibility of simultaneous business with Manchester has become very remote, and any transactions which have been put through latterly have been confined to special makes.

Local made goods are also weak, and the business done has only been some 1,200 to 1,400 packages at an average of As. 8½ to As. 8¾ per lb.

TWIST.—In the early part of the week there was no symptom of improvement in the demand for English Yarns, but within the past two days a decidedly better enquiry has sprung up, and considerable sales have been made from first hands at an improvement of ¼ anna to ½ anna per lb. Even with this, however, prices are considerably below a parity with Manchester, and sellers restrict themselves to disposing of their cheap purchases in the hope of a further improvement. This, however, is somewhat problematical, as not only are stocks heavy, but Cotton having taken a weaker turn will induce buyers to operate with greater caution. Of Local Yarns the sales during the week have been about 1,500 bales at As. 7⅞ to As. 7½ per lb.

METALS.—Copper.—Transactions have been very limited, and there is no actual change in prices to note. Supplies are heavy. Yellow Metal is dull with a partial decline of As. 8 per cwt., stocks being in excess of present wants. For Iron there has been a better enquiry of late, and a considerable business has been done, but the only movement in values has been an advance of Re. 1 per candy in Swedish Bars.

COALS.—The market was somewhat depressed for a time by two or three cargoes being offered for re-sale by speculators at very low rates, but these having been got rid of, a better feeling is again apparent. The ready cargoes of Cardiff per Brambletye and Westminster Brymbo per Alexander Yeats found buyers at Rs. 16½ and Rs. 15¾ respectively, but since then the cargo of Cardiff per Dunfillan to arrive has changed hands at Rs. 17, and a steamer cargo of Hood's Merthyr Cardiff at Rs. 16-10 per ton alongside.

COTTON.—Following the telegraphic advices from Liverpool and New York, our market during the early part of the week was active, and a considerable business was done at hardening prices until on Thursday a rise of Rs. 3 per candy on last mail's rates had been reached. Since then, however, we have rapidly quietened down, until at the close we show little, if any, difference on the week ; and even at the decline there are more sellers than buyers.

Arrivals of Omrawuttee are now rapidly increasing, and of this, as also of Hingunghaut, there seems but little doubt that full yields will be received. The quality, however, is slow to show any improvement, and of Hingunghaut the bulk consists of barely Good and of Omra of Fully Good Fair and Good Fair. In the latter growth some improvement will, doubtless, take place in the course of the next few weeks, but of Hingunghaut we are inclined to think we have already received our best supplies. Regarding Broach the reports on the whole continue favourable, and Dhollera promises to be one of the best crops we have ever had. The favourite estimate of the six months' exports is still 800,000 to 850,000 bales, and some people even talk of more, but these are in the minority.

The receipts of Cotton from up-country to date show the following comparisons with the two previous seasons :—

	1881	1880	1879
For the Week	17,466	12,283	12,190
Since 1st Sept.	158,447	130,282	84,711

The clearances for sea since the departure of last mail have been 11,492 bales against 625 bales for the same period last year.

The following are to-day's quotations for full-pressed Cotton with the equivalents in sterling, cost, and freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without commission :—

SEEDS.—Linseed has been in good request throughout at improving prices, and we now quote ready Rs. 6-7 to Rs. 6-9, May delivery Rs. 6-4 per cwt. In Rapeseed we have not heard of any fresh transactions, and we still quote new Guzerat at Rs. 5-13 per cwt. Gingelly has been pretty freely dealt in, dealers having accepted a considerable reduction in prices. We call White Rs. 38 to Rs. 39, Mixed Rs. 36 to Rs. 37, Red Rs. 35 to Rs. 36 per candy.

WHEAT is firm, and a large business has been done for export, notwithstanding the weaker advices from home. Soft White ready we quote at Rs. 33 to Rs. 33-8. New Crop, May delivery, at Rs. 29 to Rs. 29-8 per candy.

PARLIAMENTARY NEWS.

LONDON, JAN. 6.

Mr. Forster (Chief Secretary for Ireland) will to-morrow introduce to the House of Commons a bill for the protection of life and property in Ireland, and to restrict the possession of arms in that country.

Mr. Parnell gave notice that he would oppose the bill.

Mr. Gladstone will move on Monday next that the bills in connection with Ireland shall take precedence of everything else until they are passed.

Mr. Parnell gave notice of an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech, that the country is convinced that peace will not be promoted by the suspension of the constitution.

THE DEBATE IN THE LORDS ON THE ADDRESS.

LONDON, JAN. 7.

The House of Lords last night voted the address in reply to the Royal speech after a short debate, during which Lord Beaconsfield said that the Government, by changing the policy of the former Government towards Ireland, had endangered the peace in that country. He blamed the Government because they had not earlier adopted a policy of coercion, and advised them not to weaken the executive.

Lord Granville, in reply, denied His Lordship's assertion, and said that the present Government was not alone responsible for the state of Ireland, and was determined to enforce respect for the law there.

THE DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

In the debate in the House of Commons on the address Sir Stafford Northcote attacked the policy of Government in Ireland.

Mr. Gladstone spoke in defence of the Government policy, and said that the condition of Ireland was shameful, but that earlier action on the part of the Government was not justified, and that repression alone would not redress Irish grievances.

The debate was then adjourned until the next day.

LORD LYTTON'S AFGHAN POLICY.

Lord Lytton will on Monday next call the attention of the House of Lords to his policy in connection with the Afghan war during his viceroyalty.

THE POPE ON THE IRISH AGITATION.

ROME, JAN. 6.

His Holiness the Pope has written a letter to the Right Reverend Dr. MacCabe, Archbishop of Dublin, in which he has strongly condemned the method adopted in the Irish agrarian agitation, and expresses his confidence in the justice of the British Government in dealing with the question. His Holiness concludes by exhorting all Irishmen to respect the laws of the country.

STEAMER REPORT.

GALLE, JAN. 7, 7 A.M.

Mail-steamer Assam, from Aden, arrived.

H. E. THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF is expected at Dharwar on the 10th instant. His Excellency stays there two days, and then goes on to Belgaum.

WE hear from Quot Mundai, in the Marri Hills, that the Marris have nearly paid up the fine levied upon them. When they have done so, perhaps the 3rd Beluchis may have a chance of returning to Kurrachee. This regiment has been away on field service over three years.

A MOVEABLE column, consisting of head-quarters and four companies 61st Regiment, 8th Bombay Native Infantry, one squadron, and four guns was sent from Sibi to Harnai and Kacholi to be in readiness in case Sir R. Sandeman might require its assistance during his negotiations with the Marris.

MAJOR-GENERAL NAPIER CAMPBELL, Inspector-General of Ordnance, is about to take three months' privilege leave, his duties during that time being carried on by Lieutenant-Colonel Welsh, the Deputy.

THE returns of scores for the championship of the Northern India Rifle Association show—Ottley 722, Surgeon-Major Hamilton 718 Captain Bailey 717; and for the Viceroy's Cup—Captain Bailey 146, Surgeon-Major Hamilton 144, Captain Fenton 143, and Lieutenant Lamb 141.

SURGEON-MAJOR W. F. RUTTLEDGE, A.M.D., has been appointed Medical Attendant to Lord de Gray.

A CORRESPONDENT at Dharwar, Southern Mahratta country, writes:—"A staff of engineers has been ordered off from this station to survey a line of railway between Bagalkot and Gadak, but whether or not it will ever be carried out is another matter. Let some private company at home have a guarantee of 3½ or 4 per cent., and I have no doubt but it would be taken up and the line of rail carried out. But in my humble opinion it is the Karwar-Hubli line that would pay, and cost little, comparatively speaking, in its construction, compared with one from Sholapur to Hubli."

RUMOUR in Calcutta has it that on his return from his fifteen months' leave, Mr. C. U. Aitchison will be appointed to succeed Sir R. Egerton as Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, whose term of office will expire in April, 1882. It was in the Punjab that Mr. Aitchison first made his name and reputation.

THE Nepaulese Commander-in-Chief and suite, male and female, accompanied by his leviathan brass band and countless retainers of sorts and sizes have taken ship—or rather two ships, such a large, party is it—for the shrines of Pooree, not a little, it is said, to the relief of that particular part of Calcutta which they affect. Mr. Girdlestone, the Resident, will probably return to Nepaul shortly.

PRIVATE letters from the Santhal country recently received, and which the Englishman has had placed at its disposal, do not add much to previous information, and are only so far of interest that they confirm the correctness of all that has been already published, and especially that Sir Ashley Eden's semi-savage subjects continue in a pacific mood. Nevertheless it would appear that their faith in the all-prevailing power of their saint or prophet Babaji is no way shaken. They believe that he was born out of the bowels of the hills in the vicinity of Ranchi, in August last, that he has disappeared, but on his second coming in March next there will be a general goom, or rising.

THE census office has just published a list of trades and occupations, in English and Urdu, for the guidance of enumerators. Some of the trades are, to say the least of it, curious. One man is a "professional maker of speeches," and another is described as an "itinerant vendor of drugs to promote digestion." A third is a "professional ear-cleaner," while a fourth looks to the application of leeches as his sole means of livelihood. The most wonderful person of all, however, is the gawahi dene-walla, the professional giver of evidence. Is this, asks a contemporary, a piece of covert satire on the part of the Deputy Superintendent, a bitter reminiscence of weary days in cutchery and fruitless searches after truth, when neither side has any truth to tell? It would be curious to learn how many persons are returned under this head, and whether district officers will be inclined to regard professional evidence-giving as an ostensible occupation within the meaning of a certain chapter of the code.

SIR ROBERT EGERTON, General Pollard, and Mr. Leslie Clark will probably, the Pioneer's Lahore correspondent thinks, discuss at Delhi the question of a water-supply for that city. This has been in the air for the last fourteen years, and there is no question as to its urgent necessity. These old cities are in more senses than one monuments of humanity; for they have grown on thick layers of dead men's bones and the unwholesome débris of their insanitated lives. When the kindly earth has a chance it changes these horrors to blessings. "It grows such sweet things out of such corruptions, it turns harmless and stainless on its axis with such endless succession of diseased corpses, it distils such exquisite winds out of such infused fetor, it renews, with such unwitting looks, its prodigal, annual, sumptuous crops, it gives such divine materials to men and accepts such leavings from them at last." But in these heaped up cities its purifying, renovating chemistry is checked; and when you dig your release spirits of miasma and corruption more malignant than any cruel Mogul. During the excavations for the Lahore water-works the Engineer made the acquaintance of about five strata, displaying a curious chronology of urban deposit. The wells go right through these accumulations, draining their poisonous essences, and yet the water is often in appearance bright and sparkling.

An illustration of the curious kind of convenience and economy aimed at and secured in the management of things military is mentioned by the Rangoon correspondent of the Lahore paper, in connection with the arrangements for conveying the 77th Regiment to, and the 89th Regiment from, Burmah. "The Tenasserim and Czarewitch with the 77th Regiment are in at last, and the men are encamped close to the cantonment church. They look rather a young set, but it is hard to form an opinion of them as yet. The 89th embark for Vingorla on the 27th, their Christmas being spent in packing and preparing for their move. This regiment has a detachment at Port Blair. For some sapient reason the Tenasserim, which was to have called at Port Blair and dropped a detachment of the 77th and picked up the 89th men, was ordered to come on straight here. It might save trouble if she took a detachment of the 77th, called at Port Blair on her way to Vingorla, and took on the 89th men with their regiment, but that would give too little trouble, so she is to go straight to Vingorla, the 77th detachment to be sent out from home and the 89th brought back to find their comrades gone; they will then be forwarded on to Belgaum by the longest route that can be found for them."

SOME time since we mentioned that a party of Cook's tourists might shortly be expected at Calcutta. Mr. G. Datari, one of Messrs. Cook's travelling representatives, arrived there the other day with a party of travellers from Point de Galle. This party left Liverpool on the 21st of August last for New York, whence they visited several of the principal towns in America, Niagara, &c., and went across the continent to San Francisco. Thence they went to Japan, then to China and Ceylon, and will go home (after a tour through India) vid the Suez Canal and Italy. They should arrive in London on the 7th of March, thus being absent about seven months and a half, and having been round the world for a sum of £350 each.

IN CONSEQUENCE of a desire among the officers, both past and present, of the 60th Rifles, that a memorial should be erected to those of the regiment who have been killed or have died on active service in Afghanistan and Zululand, a committee to collect funds for this object has been formed. The losses of the regiment in Afghanistan and Zululand are:—1st Battalion: Lieutenant H. C. Farmer, died of fever in Zululand. 2nd Battalion: Lieutenant-Colonel J. J. Collins, died near Sibi, Afghanistan, 8th October, 1880; Colour-Sergeant J. H. Chessum, Private W. Blake, and Private H. Ward, killed in action at Ahmed Kheyl, 19th April, 1880; Private Crook, killed in action at Urzoo, 23rd April 1880; and many others who have died from cholera, fever, &c. 3rd Battalion: Major (Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel) F. V. Northey, died of wounds received at Ghingelovo; Second Lieutenant A. C. Baskerville Mynors, died of fever and dysentry at Fort Pearson, on the Tugela, on the 26th April, 1879; Private Pratt, killed in action; and about 70 others who have died from fever, dysentery, &c. Captain E. W. H. Crofton, unattached to a battalion, being supernumerary on the staff, died of cholera at Lundi Kotal, Afghanistan.

A STEAM-LAUNCH which has been built at Portsmouth for His Highness Sadiz Mahomed Khan, Nawab of Bhawalpore, was tried on December 6 in Portsmouth harbour under full speed. The launch, which is built of steel, is intended as a fishing and pleasure boat, and is constructed of very light draught, not exceeding 18 in. It measures 30ft. over all in length, 7ft. in extreme width, and has a depth of 3ft. Special care has been bestowed upon the salooon, which occupies 10ft. of the entire length. It is built of polished teak, and is fitted with sliding shutters and Venetian blinds. A small teak table is erected in the centre, while along the sides are seats covered with plush velvet. The entrance is from the bow, and opposite the door is a large mirror elaborately ornamented with floral devices, with the Nawab's crest in the centre, and the motto, in Sanscrit, "A trusted friend." The crest and motto are also painted upon each bow. The launch is propelled by twin screws, the engines being reversed without the usual link motion, by means of a lever acting on the end of a spiral sleeve, which has a to-and-fro sliding motion inside the end of the crankshaft. The boiler, which is formed of Siemens' steel, has been tested up to a pressure of 70lb. to the square inch, but is weighted to blow off at 100lb. The boat can be steered either from the bow or the stern, and is provided with an ice-well and every convenience. A speed of over twelve knots was realised, and the boat turned a complete circle in her own length in forty-four seconds. The launch, our correspondent at Kurrachee says, is expected there shortly.

THE Anglo-American Electric Light Company have commenced lighting the dials of the clock-tower of the Houses of Parliament. Last week, says Engineer, the western face was illuminated, but the effect was marred by the dirty state of the dial and the absorption of much of the light by the brick wall behind it. A few days later the northern dial was cleaned and the interior of the chamber whitewashed. Three lamps of 2,000 candles each were arranged at equal distances apart at the back of the dial, producing an illumination which for brilliancy and steadiness leaves nothing to be desired. The light is supplied from a machine driven, like most of the Brush generators, by a Brotherhood three cylinder engine on the same bedplate, the boiler and machine being placed in one of the basements of the building at a considerable distance from the clock-tower. It is intended to light all four of the dials by four lamps behind each, which will develop the full capacity of the machine, and replace about 200 gas-jets, the effect of the illumination being, as may be imagined, of an extremely brilliant character. We are glad to notice that the South-Eastern Railway Company have determined upon lighting the Charing Cross station by the Brush system, which will be driven from the Anglo-American Electric Light Company's works in the York-road, Lambeth, and at the same time to illuminate the Cannon-street station by means of Gramme machines and Crompton lamps. As the two stations are practically similar, an admirable means of comparison will be established as to the respective merits of relatively large and small lamps for lighting enclosed spaces.

THE Panama Canal project is not in favour in the United States, at least not with the Government. Mr. Secretary Thompson's acceptance of the Chaialmanship of the American Committee of the Canal has caused much criticism. The course he has followed is in opposition to the wishes of the President and other Cabinet Ministers, who view it as taking a stand against the hitherto expressed American policy on the subject. The controversy came to a point in the House on December 13th, when a resolution was introduced opposing any inter-oceanic canal constructed by foreign capital and under foreign charter, and declaring that the United States will maintain the control and supervision necessary to protect national interests. M. de Lessep's opponents moved that it should be referred to the Committee of Foreign Affairs, which oppose his project, while other speakers suggested that its should be sent to a special committee on the Inter-Oceanic Canal. After a brief debate it was referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee by 90 votes to 64.

A BHIL ROBBER.

THE adventures of Tulia Naik, a well-known Salmala Bhil, as told by Mr. Campbell in his Khandesh volume of the "Bombay Gazetteer" (pp. 312-313), form an interesting addition to the short review of the volume which we published the other day. They clearly show the simple, but at the same time fiery, character of the Bhils, and the wisdom of Government in adopting conciliatory measures towards them.

About six feet high and of an active powerful frame, Tulia, for years, lived quietly with his family. He was known as bold and manly, a brave hunter, and a leader among his tribes-people. According to his own story, and his story is almost certainly true, it was his love for hunting that in the year 1867 proved the beginning of his troubles. His story is this: "After following a big panther for many days, I killed him, took the skin to the Government treasury at Pimpalner, and was paid £1-4s. (Rs. 12). No sooner had I drawn the money than I was beset by the treasury servants asking for a share. I paid 6s. (Rs. 3) to messengers and others, and then said I would give no more. One of the men I refused, who was a constable, threatened to bring me to trouble; but I was not one who cared for threats, and I paid him nothing. Taking what was left of the reward, I called some of my friends and feasted them. We had a goat and plenty of liquor, and afterwards music, singing, and dancing. Towards midnight a message came from the police that the music must stop and the party break up. I had drunk freely and would not listen, and when the police tried to break up our party, I resisted, and was taken into custody. Next morning I was started to some village where the chief constable was. Two constables were in charge of me, one of them the man whom I had refused a share of my reward. All the way he kept gibing me, saying, 'Ah! you would not give me a rupee, very good, wait a little, you will have to go across the sea.' I vowed that I might, and watching my chance, I ran away."

When in outlawry Tulia's worst crime was gang robbery in open day. With some seven followers, himself armed with a matchlock, he rode on a pony into a large village, and discounting at the house of a rich trader, marched inside, and raising his matchlock to the money-lender's head and blowing the match, demanded his money. He got much spoil, and for months lived without another robbery. But he was greatly feared, and there were many complaints of his forcing women in the wilder roads.

Next year (1868), Tulia, under promise that he should be allowed to go free if he would but listen to reason, agreed to meet Major Probyn, who went to Selbari for the purpose. About eleven o'clock, on the morning after Major Probyn arrived, Tulia's brother came and asked for a bottle of brandy. The brandy was given, and in about an hour Tulia appeared with some eight Bhils all armed. When he came near, he threw himself at Major Probyn's feet and said he would willingly give himself up if Major Probyn would try him. Major Probyn told him that he had not come to try him, and promised that he would go with him to the District Magistrate and do his best to have his sentence made as light as possible. To this Tulia would not agree. He said "Let the saheb send for the witnesses, and try me himself, and hang me on the tree we are sitting under, or send me to Dhulia jail. I am ready to be handcuffed now, but I will not go before any other saheb." On hearing that this could not be, he said he would take till next morning to think the matter over. Meanwhile he asked Major Probyn to let him go and see his people in Pimpalner, and give him a note that he might not be seized for that one night. Armed with the note Tulia went to Pimpalner, got very drunk, and ended up with a cloth-seller's shop, threw his goods into the street and let his followers scramble for them. In the morning he sent a message that he would not give himself up, and was going back to the woods.

A party of police was sent under Inspector Hafizula to hunt him. It was difficult to get any news of him. Once or twice he was seen and fired at, but always got off. He was believed to wear a charm that made him bullet-proof. One day the inspector went alone to the house of two Bhil pátils to ask after Tulia. Tulia, who was hid close by, heard of this, and surrounding the house, made the inspector prisoner. The inspector protested that he was Tulia's best friend and never meant to harm him. But Tulia would have none of this. "You have given me much trouble, and you have made your men fire on me more than once, and tried to kill me, and you shall die; but before killing you I will take you to Pimpalner and make you give us your funeral feast, and then bring you back and kill you." He put the inspector into a cart, in which he and one of his followers rode with drawn swords, and thus they drove to the Pimpalner liquor shop. Here the inspector was made to get down, go into the liquor shop, and drink. The cup passed round, each after a time Tulia unthinkingly laid down his sword, and raising the liquor jar took a long pull. Seeing his chance the inspector leaped up, and getting both hands fast in Tulia's hair, pressed his face to the ground, and shouted for the police. The two constables who were standing outside hoping to help the inspector, rushed in, and Tulia was a prisoner. His men fled without raising a finger to help him. Tulia was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. On finishing his time, Tulia was released, and left the north-west Khandesh roads, and did his work well until a complaint of rape was brought against him. Then he again fled and was "out" for some months, but did not rob. All attempts to catch him had failed, when one day, as Major Probyn was riding along the Selbari road, Tulia walked out of a bábhul tree into the middle of the road, and said he had come to give himself up. He got into Major Probyn's pony cart, was driven to the Magistrate's camp, convicted of rape, and transported for life.

MR. BIRDWOOD'S REPORT.

THE witness Jivli (No. 7), whose demeanour under cross-examination impressed me favourably, says distinctly that she only saw the deceased beaten on the Saturday night. She says that deceased was first struck downstairs, with a thin stick, then upstairs with a rope that was on the floor. "Then" she says, "he struck her on the back with a sword which was in its scabbard. After striking her with the rope, he tied her hands with it. He tied her hands together. He did not tie her hands to her body or to the ceiling. After he had tied her hands, he struck her on the back with the sword, as she was sitting. She was slightly wounded on the back. The scabbard was split. He then struck her on the hand. I saw a stick in accused's hand. But I did not see him use it." She adds:—"When I saw him use his sword, I went out of the room." There can be no doubt that accused struck his wife with a stick, for he himself admits that he did so. The circumstance that Jivi did not see him use a stick in the middle room does not show that her evidence, as above set forth, is false. She apparently describes the beginning of the assault on deceased. She must have been frightened by what she had seen, and she may have left the room before deceased was beaten with a stick. The assault with the sheathed sword, if correctly described by Jivli, could not have been a serious one.

As to the immediate effects of the assault on deceased, Jivli's evidence supports that of Champa generally. She says that she left deceased at 5 o'clock on Sunday morning: that deceased said to her "Leave a girl with me and go." She left Bijli with her. She returned at 10 o'clock. Deceased was then lying down, though usually she did not sleep at that hour. She was saying bap-re-ma-re (O father! mother!). She was evidently not in her usual state of health. Jivli also says that deceased was delirious on Monday at 2 o'clock, after telling Hariba that it was her fate which led her to do what she had done. Another witness describes her as delirious in the evening.

The witness Nathli (No. 8) speaks of two beatings. She says that when Rajkooverba was first brought into the middle room, accused struck her on the back and shoulders with a stick, when she or his wife interfered, and that the accused then went downstairs.

She adds:—"Accused came upstairs once again. He beat her again with a stick,—the same stick which he had used before. The deceased was then tied up. Her feet were tied up with a rope. The rope was fastened to an iron hook in the ceiling. Her feet were raised about two haths above the floor, and her head was on the floor. I and Champa tied her legs by order of the accused. He struck her the second time about 10 times with a stick on her legs and thighs. Nothing happened to the stick." Champa says that a stick was broken by the accused in beating her, and that he then beat her with a piece of firewood, which was brought from the back persat, near the cook-room. This statement is not, however, supported. Nathli says that she did not see the accused strike the deceased with anything but a stick, and that the rope used to tie her feet with was one hanging from a peg in the wall. She says further that she did not see the witness Puni beaten or seized, although this witness was certainly tied up with a rope to a peg in a wall. She says that deceased was able to walk about after the assault of the 3rd July, but she does not, in her examination-in-chief, describe any further violence as having been used to her on any other day. In her re-examination, she describes Puni as having been struck and tied to a peg, and also says that accused struck deceased at 9 A.M., on Sunday, and twice or thrice with a stick on the back when she was delirious on Monday evening. Nathli had previously made statements to this effect when she was examined by Colonel LaTouche. I am not of course prepared to say that the statements made to Colonel LaTouche were false, but they are inconsistent with the evidence first given by the witness before me. She says that she did not remember the circumstances deposed to in the re-examination when she was examined in chief. This explanation may be true. But it would be dangerous to accept such an explanation in such a case. If accused really struck deceased in cold blood, when she was weak and delirious, the conclusion would, I think, be warranted that such violence must have accelerated her death, and his act would then apparently have been murder. But if Nathli really saw the assaults referred to in her re-examination, it is remarkable that she should have said in her examination-in-chief, when speaking of the events of Monday night:—"The deceased was then in the last room, but not in her own last room. Champa was sitting at the threshold. No one else was there. Nothing was done to her that night." Champa says nothing of the alleged assault on the Monday night. Nathli's evidence regarding it cannot, I think, be acted on.

The boy Nasir (No. 10) says that he first saw accused slapping deceased with his hand; also that accused beat deceased 5 or 6 times with a stick which broke, and that he then sent the witness downstairs for another stick; and the witness brought a thinner one. This is a different story from that told by Champa. Nasir also says that deceased's hands were tied together with a rope, which was fastened to a hook in the ceiling. Monday she was beaten. Her feet were then tied by the witness and Champa. Nasir also says that, at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, accused struck deceased again two or three times with a stick. The witness adds that he himself gagged her mouth, to stop her crying, and that the elder wife interfered when he gagged her. Jivli is said to have been present on this occasion; but she does not support this story, and I hesitate to find on the evidence of Nasir alone, who did not appear to me to be altogether a satisfactory witness, though he was certainly an intelligent one, that the accused assaulted the deceased on the Sunday morning, as alleged.

The girl Puni (No. 11), who seemed to me to be a truthful witness, says that she heard the thuds of blows when sitting in the persal of the palace, outside the room where accused assaulted his wife. The witness herself was ill-treated in the manner already described.

Witness Bijli (No. 22) speaks of the state of deceased before her death. She says that when she helped to remove her to the end room, she did not think she would die. The deceased did not then complain of any pain. She sat on the floor, in the middle of the room, while the servants were bringing and spreading her bedding. She rested her body on one arm, with her hand on the floor. The bedding was spread near her and behind her back, and "Champa laid her down, placing her hands behind her head, which she lowered to the bedding. * * And when her head was rested on the bedding, the quilt was dragged, so as to come under feet as well." This evidence shows that though the death of Rajkooverba was unexpected,—and this fact would also appear from the evidence of Amruti (No. 21)—still the deceased must have been quite unable on the 5th July to walk or even move without help.

I think that the evidence on the record warrants the conclusion that the assault was a more grievous assault than the accused admits. Its character must be judged as much from its immediate effects as from the statements regarding it. It is quite indeed probable that the principal witnesses could have seen each blow that was struck or that they could have noticed accurately all that they saw. They must all have been excited and more or less confused; and then after the lapse of three months, they may have forgotten much that they really saw and noticed. On the other hand, the incidents of the assault would probably often have been the subject of conversation, and the recollection of some of the incidents would in this way become mixed up with their recollection of what they had heard about these incidents, and considerations of this kind serve, I think, to explain most of the discrepancies in their evidence, which, for what they are worth, must to some extent weaken the case for the prosecution. But I do not think that these witnesses are dishonest. It is true that they have been kept in charge of the police, in pursuance of Government, (in Resolution No. 3952 of 18th August, 1880,) that the Superintendent of Police should "take all necessary precautions to protect the witnesses and to prevent them being tampered with." But I do not think that there are sufficient grounds for suspecting that they have been tampered with by their custodians. If they had been taught a certain story, they would all have repeated it in the same way, and they would have broken down under the searching cross-examination which they underwent. I think that, as a rule, the female witnesses have tried to re-call the events of the night of the 3rd July to the best of their ability, and that their evidence is, as a whole, not to be rejected, even though it is necessary to reject parts of it on account of obvious imperfections. The character of the assault may well be understood from its immediate effects. The direct evidence regarding it shows that the deceased was beaten with a stick, and I think, that probably her hands and legs were also tied with a rope and she may also have been struck with a sheathed sword. But whether all the alleged kinds of violence were used or not, the fact remains that deceased was unable to walk immediately after the assault, and did not eat on Monday, probably because she could not eat, and that she was very weak on Monday night. The assault must, therefore, have been severe.

7. The question then arises, whether the assault ought not to be held to have caused the death of Rajkooverba. It is impossible to say that deceased would probably have died on the 6th July, even if she had not been assaulted on the 3rd July, for there is no sufficient evidence as to any independent cause of death. Rajkooverba was apparently strong and well before she was assaulted, and the assault and the death were connected by a period of weakness and impaired health, which can apparently be referred to the injuries inflicted on the 3rd July. The death may, therefore, have been due to those injuries. It is suggested for the prosecution that death in this case resulted from shock to the nervous system. It appears from Taylor's Medical Jurisprudence (VIII. Ed. p. 236) that shock is a direct cause of death under the infliction of external violence, in cases of which "life is destroyed without the injury being to appearance sufficient to account for so speedily fatal a result." And "a person may die from what is termed shock, without any marks of severe injury being discovered after death." Examples of this kind of death are given by Taylor, in which the local injuries seemed to have been followed in all cases by rapidly fatal consequences. One of the forms of shock is where a person "may have received many injuries as by blows or stripes, not one of which, taken alone, could, on medical grounds, be termed mortal; and yet he may die directly from the effects of the violence, either on the spot, or very soon afterwards. In the absence of any large effusion of blood beneath the skin, death is commonly referred to exhaustion, but this is only another mode of expression; the exhaustion is itself dependent on a fatal influence or impression produced on the nervous system." (ib. p. 237.) In the present case, the deceased received a number of injuries, each of which was perhaps comparatively slight, yet it would appear that these were "as capable of operating fatally as any single wound whereby some blood vessel or organ important to life" was directly affected. There is nothing to show that a blow was struck on any vital part, and if death had followed the alleged injuries immediately, there might, perhaps, have been no difficulty in referring it to those injuries; for "if we are informed that the deceased was in ordinary health and vigour previous to the infliction of the violence, and there is no morbid cause to account for his sudden illness and death, there is no reason why we should hesitate in referring death to the effect of a number of injuries." The difficulty in the present case arises from the circumstance that though the injuries were immediately followed by impaired health and strength, yet death did not probably result for more than 50 hours. During this period, deceased was not closely watched by all the witnesses. There is no evidence for instance as to her condition throughout the night immediately preceding her death. No one is said to have been with her when she died. The exact time and circumstances of her death are not known. She was simply found dead by Jivli and Bijli were evidently much surprised to find her dead. It has been suggested that she may have eaten opium and died. She certainly said more than once that she would take opium or take her life in some way. But there is nothing to show that she committed suicide. And she may not really have intended to commit suicide. She may have said that she would take her life only to save herself from being beaten. I do not think it probable that she took opium, but of course it cannot be said that she did not take the poison and die from its effects. No inquest was held on her body, and there was no post mortem examination, and in the absence of such examination, it seems impossible to say that she took no poison, or that there was no case of death from poisoning of which nothing is known (see Taylor, VIII. Ed. p. 242). An examination of the body would no doubt have sufficed to determine whether death was to be ascribed to violence or not (ib. 249). There may have been injuries affecting the lower portion of the spinal column, which "do not commonly prove fatal until after some days or weeks." In such a case "the symptoms manifested by the patient during life, as well as the appearances observed in the body after death will sufficiently connect the injury with that event." In the present case, however, there was no medical observation of post mortem appearances, and any finding as to the cause of death would, therefore, be based on the conjecture. If such finding is to be based mainly on the circumstance that deceased was weak and unable to walk after she was beaten. "Death may follow a wound, and be a consequence of that wound at almost any period after its infliction. It is necessary, in order to maintain, on a charge of homicide, that death should be strictly and clearly traceable to the injury and not be dependent on any other cause. A doubt on this point must of course lead to an acquittal of the accused." (ib. 243.) I think that in the present case the want of exact information, based on scientific observation of post mortem appearances, necessarily raises a reasonable doubt as to the cause of death. I cannot therefore find that accused caused the death of the deceased. Of course, if it were satisfactorily proved that he beat her on the Sunday and much more if he beat her on the Monday night, my finding would probably be different. But I cannot, for the reasons already recorded, find that these subsequent assaults are proved.

8. If I am wrong in finding it not proved that accused caused his wife's death, still I do not think that his conduct on the night of the 3rd July amounted to murder.

I do not think that he then intended to kill his wife.

The circumstance that he did not, during the assault, draw his sword from its scabbard, and that, if he used at all, he must have struck the deceased with the flat side of the scabbard and not with its edge, is one of the circumstances which leads me to the conclusion that he did not intend on the night of the 3rd July to kill his wife. I think that he had a sword in his hand at one time; for it is said, and I think truly, that his wife snatched his sword from him during the assault. But if Jivi's evidence is true, and I am not prepared to set it aside, the elder wife could not have done so till it had been used in the manner described by Jivli. And if accused could have killed her, he must have had time to draw it, and could have drawn it and would probably have done so and cut his wife down with it at once, if he had intended to take her life. Jivli's evidence certainly warrants the inference that though accused was enraged with his wife, and also with her little servant, Puni, because she had not told him that she had seen his wife go down the rope, his object in first assaulting his wife was to chastise and not to kill her. Jivli also says in her cross-examination that when deceased asked Puni to bring her water to drink after she was struck with the sword, accused did not try to prevent Puni giving her water, and that Rajkooverba drank the water. Puni says that it was Bijli who gave the water. Any way, it would appear that accused allowed his wife to drink the water. Also, it was the accused who sent Amruti and Jivi to fetch Hariba and Tejba, on the Monday, in order apparently that he might inform them of his wife's misconduct. And this he would scarcely have done if he had then thought that he had inflicted a mortal injury on her. He would not probably have done so, if he had been conscious of any desire then to take her life. It is really his own conduct on the 6th July, to which I shall refer again presently, and not the direct evidence regarding the assault of the 3rd July, that raises the worst suspicions against him. It raises the suspicion that if death was not really the result of that assault, there may have been further violence used on the night of the 5th July, of which nothing is known. If again says that in Kala Sunday's house, when deceased said she would take opium, accused replied, "You have done such a thing, and now you want to commit suicide to bring blame on me." These were not apparently the words of a man who had already formed the intention of killing his wife. Again, his conduct towards the suspected paramour, Sadat, when he learnt, after going upstairs, from Rajkooverba herself, that it was "for Sadat" she had left her room, was not that of a man who was bent on taking the life of those who had wronged him. He simply ordered Sadat to be confined; and Sadat was, thereupon, shut up in a privy by Jeslo, so insecurely, that his father, Aladad, when ordered to leave the palace, had no difficulty in at once releasing him, and the fact that Sadat was able to escape from Oodeypore next morning. It was of course possible and even probable that accused's anger increased after his wife had told him why she had left her room. He had then probably no doubt as to her intrigue with the boy Sadat. He may then have formed the purpose to kill her, if he had formed no such purpose before. And the fact that his wife, Nanhkooverba, snatched his sword from his hand shows that those who were near him, after Rajkooverba had been taken to the middle room, must have had reason to fear that in his anger he might try to kill her. But for the reasons already stated, I do not think that, when striking her as he did on the 3rd July, he intended to take her life.

EPPS'S COCOA.
(BREAKFAST.)

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well-fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—See article in the Civil Service Gazette.

RENAL PILLS

ARE celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints, Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder, and Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs generally. Possessing tonic properties, they agree with the most delicate stomach, strengthen the digestive organs, increase the appetite, improve the general health, and in three days will effect a cure when copaiba, cubebs, and all dangerous medicines of that class have utterly failed.

These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone, many thousands are annually restored to health, and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as no one need suffer these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of reval or urinary disturbance, they are indeed unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In boxes 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. & 33s.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE WORLD
PILULÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS.

ALL sufferers from general nervousness, and morbid feelings, low spirits, loss of memory, sleeplessness, harassing dreams, unnecessary fears, mental irritability, failure of the mental and bodily powers, weakness of the nerves, headache, noises in the head, giddiness, indigestion, and other symptoms of chronic disease, will hail with joy the discovery of Dr. De Roos' Life Pills, which speedily and almost magically remove pain and diseases of whatever nature, restore cheerfulness to the spirits, vigour to the body, and strengthen all the organs on which health and life depend, they do not contain a particle of mercury, but are purely vegetable; and for all affections of the liver, flatulency, bilis, sick headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, lowness of spirits, the sensations of fulness at the pit of the stomach, pain between the shoulders, and the distress arising from indigestion and general debility they will be found of unexampled efficacy; and it is no small advantage that they can be taken at any time without danger from wet or cold, or necessity for restraint from business or pleasure. They act mildly on the bowels, without pain or griping, impart strength to the stomach, promote a healthy action of the liver, thus preventing, or when present, curing the jaundice, and dropsy, clearing the skin, removing sallowness and pimples, purifying the blood, bracing the nerves, and marvellously invigorating the whole system. Females of all ages will find them invaluable, and should never be without them. Price 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s. per box.

THE MOST ASTOUNDING CURES

Are daily being effected in cases of Nervousness, General Debility, Impurity of the Blood, Defective Circulation, Languor, Lassitude, Depression of Spirits, Indigestion, Pain and Palpitation in the Side, &c., &c., by whose effects are really magical in restoring lost tone to the system (arising from whatever cause), re-invigorating and quickening the whole corporeal frame, and gradually, but effectively, building up the most shattered constitution.

WORLD-FAMED GUTTÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS,

Although this truly wonderful recuperative tonic is not put forward as imparting immortality, it is not too much to say that by its means new life is, as it were, imparted to the nervous and debilitated, who were evidently sinking into an early grave; whilst to those of maturer years it will gently and serenely protract the close of life. Thousands of apparently hopeless cases, given up by the faculty are now in the enjoyment of health (life's greatest blessing), a living testimony to the unspeakable value of this remarkable medicine. Hundreds of testimonial, too numerous to publish, may be seen by any one. This preparation is extremely pleasant to take and none need suffer while such a miraculous medicament is in existence. Persons of studious habits, debilitated females, and those on whom the wear and tear of life is beginning to tell, should per severe steadily with this life-reviving tonic for one month and they will be astonished at its results. All those who have tried other means, galvanic and electric appliances &c., without any beneficial result, are earnestly recommended to make fair trial of this medicine, which, being concocted on the highest scientific principles invariably gives the utmost satisfaction. Price 11s. and 33s. per bottle. Every package of Dr. De Roos' Preparations has the words "Walter de Roos, London," printed in white letters on the British Government stamp by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners. Sold by Messrs. Treacher & Co., Limited Bombay, and all the principalmerchants in India.
